Course Description:

This course focuses on preaching the Gospel from the Old and New Testaments. Students will be able to:

1. Articulate a theology of proclamation.
2. Exegete a variety of biblical passages for preaching.
3. Evaluate sermons for biblical integrity, theological soundness, internal logic, and delivery, and appropriate insights gained from the evaluation of their own sermons.
4. Develop plans for ordering and delivering sermons in their congregational and communal context.

Textbooks:

Required Texts:

1. Fred Craddock: Craddock on the Craft of Preaching
2. Eugene L. Lowry: The Homiletical Plot: The Sermon as Narrative Art From
3. Cleophus LaRue: The Heart of Black Preaching
4. Barbara Brown Taylor: The Preaching Life
5. A Good Study Bible – a good example would be The New Interpreter's Study Bible (NRSV). Please do not use or bring a devotional Bible or paraphrased version of scripture.
6. Paul Scott Wilson, Editor: The New Interpreter's Handbook of Preaching

Supplemental Texts:

1. Adam Hamilton: Unleashing the Word
2. Adam Hamilton: Speaking Well: Essential Skills for Speakers, Leaders, and Preachers
3. Luke A. Powery: Dem Dry Bones: Preaching, Death, and Hope

Assignments:

General Note about our assignments. There will be a class Facebook page that will have lectures, links to read/watch, and other important learning tools that will be an important component of our course. More information about those assignments and learning opportunities will be made available towards the beginning of the course. Following this note, I have provided reading and writing assignments for the entire semester.

Due by March 14, 2022

1. Read Craddock on the Craft of Preaching by Fred Craddock.
Write a paragraph with 3-5 sentences that captures the main idea on each chapter in the book. Then attach an essay (1-2 pages) exploring the following:
 - 1) What you learned
 - 2) How you were challenged
 - 3) Where do you agree and disagree with Craddock,
 - 4) What ideas from Craddock's work will you incorporate into your preaching life?
2. Please submit a written description of how you prepare to preach. Tell me what you study, how you study, and how you spend your week preparing for Sunday. What's your favorite preaching resource? Additionally, tell me how you do long term planning, how you keep sermon ideas/stories, and what, if any, group you may meet with to help you brainstorm/write sermons.

Reading List to be completed before March 19th:

Craddock on the Craft of Preaching – Read the whole book

The Preaching Life – Read the whole book

The New Interpreter's Handbook of Preaching – Read the following sections:
